Tucked away behind an unassuming façade, you'll find an expansive, fully renovated family home that feels like your own private, exclusive resort.

Reminiscent of the striking Spanish Mission homes that once dotted the Californian landscape, this four-bedroom residence feels very much like a sun-filled retreat, complete with idyllic swimming pool and outdoor entertaining area.

The property has been extensively updated with a designer's touch, making it an inviting, light-filled sanctuary where you'll want to spend time.

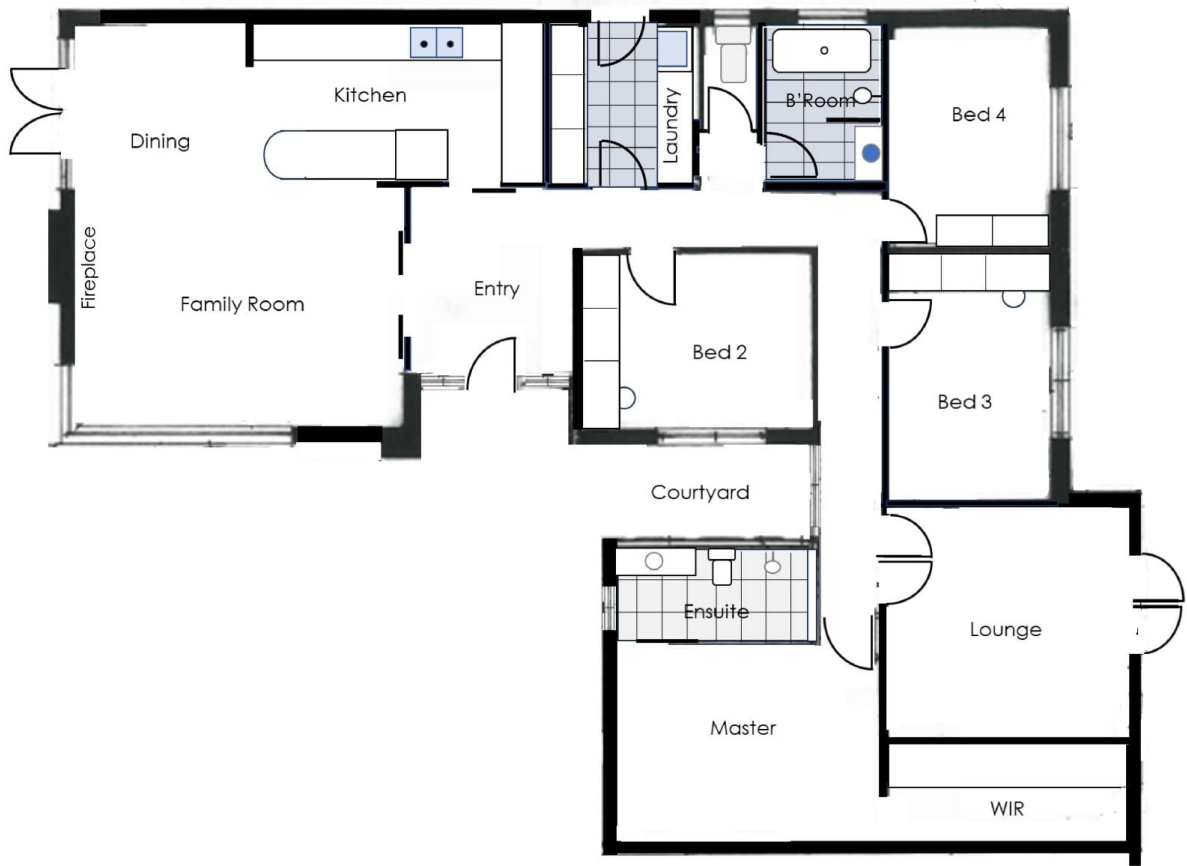

At the front of the home, behind a private front wall, you'll find a huge, saltwater swimming pool, surrounded by
